THREE CALVES SURVIVE QUADRUPLE BIRTH

Three calves are the surviving members of quadruplets born on the John Ohnysty farm 14 miles north west of Evansburg on Saturday, August 5th.

The three calves, all heifers, appear in good health. The fourth, a bull, was dead when found in the morning.

Expecting twins, Mr. Ohnysty and his son, John, Jr. stayed up with the cow until 2 a.m. Two calves were born and when all seemed normal the Ohnysty's went to bed. In the morning they were surprised to find a third healthy calf in the barn with the cow and the fourth already dead.

The quadruplets were the first multiple birth on the farm since Mr. Ohnysty started farming in 1938.

The odds against quadruplets in cattle is one in several million and the chance of triplets also very unlikely making the first multiple birth on the Ohnysty farm a very rare and unusual event.

Cattle Rustling Still Threat To Stock Men

Cattle rustling is still taking money from the pockets of Alberta ranchers and farmers. This area is no exception with occasional reports of rustling still being heard throughout the district.

Branding is helpful in keeping animals from being stolen and sold openly but of little value in the case of cattle thieves butchering in the field. Although it is often difficult with animals spread through many acres of bush pasture about the only means of protection available to stock men is to make frequent checks on their herds and perhaps avoid the possibility of loss.

a.m. on Saturday, August 19th.

This is an opportunity for spectators to see some of Canada's finest horses competing in a variety of events. The price of admission is a fraction of the amount paid in major population centres to see the same horses in action.

Events will include a cutting horse competition; Canada's young riders of the future in the Junior Jumper Sweepstakes; Canada's outstanding jumpers in the Open Champ Jumper Sweepstakes; and a Gymkhana Jackpot Competition.

The action starts with a free pancake breakfast from 8:00 to 10:30 a.m. followed by a parade starting at 10:30 a.m. Farm machinery will be on display along with children's rides and concession booths on the grounds.

Members of the Kinsmen's Club invite area residents to come out and see these fine horses and riders take part in the show that has established its popularity in the past. Admission is adults, $1.00, students, 50¢; and cars 50¢.

Mrs. Wood Home From Trip East

Mrs. Cornelia R. Wood of Stony Plain returned recently from a trip to eastern Canada that included twelve days at Expo and a month visiting in Ontario. She was also an Alberta delegate to the national convention of the Federated Women's Institute of Canada at Guelph.

Mrs. Wood reports an enjoyable time at the fair and was kind enough to sum up the experience in two articles for publication in The Western Review, the first of them appearing in this issue.

Mrs. Wood commented on the crowds and added that although "millions will attend Expo, only thousands will be able to tell much of what they saw except long lines of people waiting."

There are 6,500 square miles of lakes in the province of Alberta, and good fishing is assured.

EXPO '67 AND ITS THEME

By Mrs. Cornelia R. Wood

I have just returned from twelve days at Expo 67 and I was greatly impressed with it in spite of the long lines of people waiting to enter the pavilions or get a drink at the water fountains or get into the washrooms. Many of the pavilions are huge and most interesting, but there are also many that are small but equally worthwhile. The architecture is fabulous, the sculpture throughout the grounds and in the buildings is spectacular and the new techniques in films used will likely effect movies and cinema of the future.

Having seen the so-called World Fairs at New York in 1940, Seattle in 1962 and in New York in 1964, there is no doubt in my mind that Expo 67 is the one that deserves the title "World's Fair" under the Universal and International Exhibition Association. Its 1000 acres on two islands--one man-made--and a peninsula in the River St. Lawrence, provide generous space for 62 nations to join with Canada, her provinces and three States of the U.S.A. in magnificent pavilions depicting national cultures, educational and industrial development, and for La Ronde the gay Amusement Area on 135 acres.

Expo does not have a single symbol like the Unisphere in the last New York Fair, the Space Needle of Seattle nor the Trylon and Perisphere of the 1939-40 New York Fair. The New York Fairs were located on 646 acres and the Seattle Fair covered only 74 acres as compared to Expo's 1000 acres.

It is expected that 35,000,000 people will visit Expo, while New York which ran two years, 1964-65, attracted only 51,000,000 visitors and Seattle drew 9,500,000. With only half of the six months passed, Expo has had over 28,000,000 visitors.

The Seattle Fair highlighted the space age and the last New York Fair dealt with man's achievement in an expanding universe. Expo's theme is Man and His World. This is carried out in five theme buildings each divided into two or three parts and in practically every national pavilion.

In the theme building, Man the Creator, Expo shows treasures from around the world--paintings, photographs, industrial designs and sculpture demonstrating creative dreams, ideas and achievements of man. Exhibits of contemporary sculpture are there and throughout the ground. The 400 photographs are outstanding, but the highlight is the Art Exhibit showing some 190 works from Rembrandt to Ropelle. They are on exhibit from Japan, Holland, Italy, India, Switzerland and Russia. To carry out the theme, the art exhibits are subdivided under Man and Love, Man and Nature, Man the Dreamer, and six other categories. The collection, worth over $30,000,000 provides the chance of a lifetime to see original works of the Master Painters and surpasses any exhibit ever seen in North America.

Generally speaking Expo shows the joys of possession. Man in the Community theme building shows what can happen to all of us as a result of that possession. By means of cartoons, puppets, films, displays and the fantastic "Citerama" the effects of city life and technology are shown. As you enter the pavilion, you see your own image and that of the other visitors in mirrors letting you know that you are the 'Man in the Community'.

The puppet show dramatizes the problem of leisure and the Citerama is an 8 minute show depicting the disturbing life in the city.

Going into the section on "Man and His Health", you enter into a hexagonal theatre where on overhead screens, live action is shown. A 'blue baby' is saved with blood infusions and transfusions, before and after birth; a delicate brain operation to relieve victims of Parkinson's disease; an artificial kidney helps a chronic Nephritis patient stay alive and well; a heart operation is performed and a small thalidomide victim learns to use electronic arms.

As people stand to watch these operations after standing hours to get into pavilions throughout the day, it takes strong hearts and physical stamina to not be affected by them. Preparedness for visitors who faint is evident and assistance is right on the spot immediately. It was after eight o'clock in the evening when I was there and after an eleven hour day spent in standing in lines, walking through huge pavilions and around the grounds, I decided to sit down on the floor near the wall and look at the screen above me rather than continue standing and look down on the stage showing the surgery. At once, three men were beside me asking if I were feeling all right. Thank goodness I was, but at that moment two women fell nearby. The men hurried to their side to help in reviving them. I was told that it is a common occurrence to have people faint in this pavilion, but there is much to learn of how man has learned to stay alive and to fit into his changing world.

The third part of 'Man and His Community' is Habitat 67, a ragged pyramid of 158 apartments arranged so that nobody can see into anybody else's windows and with nothing under each living room except about 40 feet of thin air. It is interesting to see and impresses one with its new way of living with privacy and differentness in apartments in a city. In the 'Man the Producer' building, it shows that the world is filled with great natural resources and man turns them into many products and machines, yet often, man makes things or situations that he cannot control. It shows the danger that, someday man will be at the mercy of the machines that he has invented, and stresses the fact that man's new role is to learn to handle them not be mastered by them.

In the pavilion, 'Man the Provider' one is impressed by the long way man has come in producing food in variety and quantity and yet millions go to bed hungry each night. The rate of world population increase is shown and challenges man to bring about a better balance between increasing population and food requirements through increased agricultural production.

This theme pavilion on a 7 1/2 acre site is one of the most impressive ones to my thinking. It is divided into sections on soils, crops, mechanization, animals, marketing and farm management. It shows a flock of Leghorn hens being fed, watered and pens cleaned automatically and their eggs collected by conveyor belt. A calf is shown, the product of artificial insemination whose sire has been dead for ten years. Machines milk 20 dairy cows and pump the milk through transparent pipes and later we see it made into cheese. These and many other displays showing scientific farm management, make one come away with the new hope that we can feed those hungry millions.

The aim of the theme pavilions is to help the visitor understand the world in which he lives, better than he did before he went to Expo, and they have accomplished this, I believe. One cannot visit them without looking at himself and his world and realizing what the future could be like for us and the children and then seriously asking himself why is there poverty and disease in so many parts of the world when the North American with his machines lives in abundance.

At the height of last Friday's electrical storm lightning struck a small birch tree at the R. Butz home while members of the family watched. The tree, about 15 feet from the house, went down in a blue flash before the eyes of 5-year old Kenny who shouted, "It's going, it's going...it's gone" while the others rushed to the window to catch a glimpse of the action. Mobile Clinic to Visit Evansburg

Sponsored by the Evansburg Council of The Catholic Women's League the Mobile TB Chest X-ray Unit will visit Evansburg next week.

The clinic, in the basement of the Legion Hall, will be held on Wednesday, August 23 from 1:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and on Thursday, August 24th from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and from 1:30 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The mobile clinic will leave Evansburg on Thursday, after 5 p.m. and set up in Wildwood on Friday, August 25th.

This service, sponsored jointly by the Department of Public Health and the Alberta Tuberculosis Association Christmas Seal Fund, is a source of early discovery not only of unsuspected tuberculosis but many other abnormalities including: heart irregularities, tumors, etc. and is especially valuable in view of the alarming increase in the incidence of lung cancer, emphysema, pleurisy, etc. which the chest X-ray will reveal considerably in advance of symptoms becoming obvious.

A house-to-house canvas is being conducted to register every family in Evansburg and community. All persons over school age will be included in this registration.

School children have been Tuberculin tested at school through the services provided by the Edson Health Unit, and will not be required to attend this clinic.

In charge of the program are: Mr. C.B. Pugh, General Chairman; Mrs. Helen Marshall, Advance Registration Chairman; Mrs. Joan Tebbutt, Clinic Appointments Chairman; Mrs. Mary Cumming, Publicity Chairman; and Mrs. Yata Otto, Volunteer Help Chairman.

The area to be covered in the survey will be: Evansburg, Park Court, Rangeton, Holly Springs, Styal and Reno.

Among the new books recently arrived in the municipal library are: "Night Falls on the City" by Sarah Gainham. This extraordinary novel is about Vienna; it centres around the fate of a great actress from the take over of Austria, by Nazis, in 1938 until the invasion of the Russians in 1945. She is married to a prominent Jew and all during the war years she succeeds in hiding him in her home.

"The Bridge in the Jungle" by B. Traven has just come on the market after having been out of print for several years. The locale is "huts by the river" an Indian settlement deep in the Mexican bush. A small boy has disappeared and the people unite to find the lost child.

If you enjoyed "Marnie" you will want to read "The Walking Stick" by Winston Graham.

EVANSBURG

Mrs. M. Bruner, Correspondent

Last week my news column was written in the hospital ward as I visited with our boy who will be coming home soon. This week it is much more normal to be writing my few items of news in our own home.

Rain is still needed around the immediate area so the grain crops will fill out. Although, it seems that in some areas close by, the rain would not be missed if it stayed away for quite some time as some farmers are finding the weather rather wet for haying.

Helping with the haying and visiting at the same time is James Ohnesty from Colorado. Jim's family has been here for some time with his parents who reside in the Hollisprings district.

A wedding of interest took place last week when Rosemary Ledenski of this town, now employed in Edmonton, married Ron MacGregor of Wildwood.

Since the grade 12 exam results have come out we see and hear of several students doing some extra studying to raise their marks. Good luck to them all.

A new building going up just next to Malenchuk's store is, we hear, to be a much needed laundromat for the convenience of busy working housewives around the village.

We also see no more, but a pile of rubbish, the place that used to house the village office and telephone exchange. This will be another old landmark gone when the spot is cleaned up.

Busy doing some extra preparing for tests that may be encountered at Olds School of Agriculture were Shirley Hutchinson, Terry Kremeniuk and Larry Rosadiuk, all members of the Pembina Forage 4-H Club, who have earned the chance to go to eliminations week at Olds.

Those members of the club who were fortunate enough to go to Club week were Terry Kremeniuk, Caroline Roasadiuk and Walter Myschuk. All reported having had a fine time.

Guess the hot weather is getting everyone down these days, myself included. But, however, first things first. And the first thing I wish to do in this column is to rectify a mistake made in last week's news. It was reported that Wolff's store had changed hands but this is not so; therefore, we will all be happy to see Mr. and Mrs. Wolff staying behind the store counter and greeting their friends.

A shower was held for Miss Margaret Nagy who will be married soon.

Maryann Weist and Gary Lorenze were married in a pretty ceremony last week.

Our son, Zane is now home from the hospital, and is getting his exercise on crutches. However, we no sooner got him home than we had to leave our little Holly in the Drayton hospital for a few days.

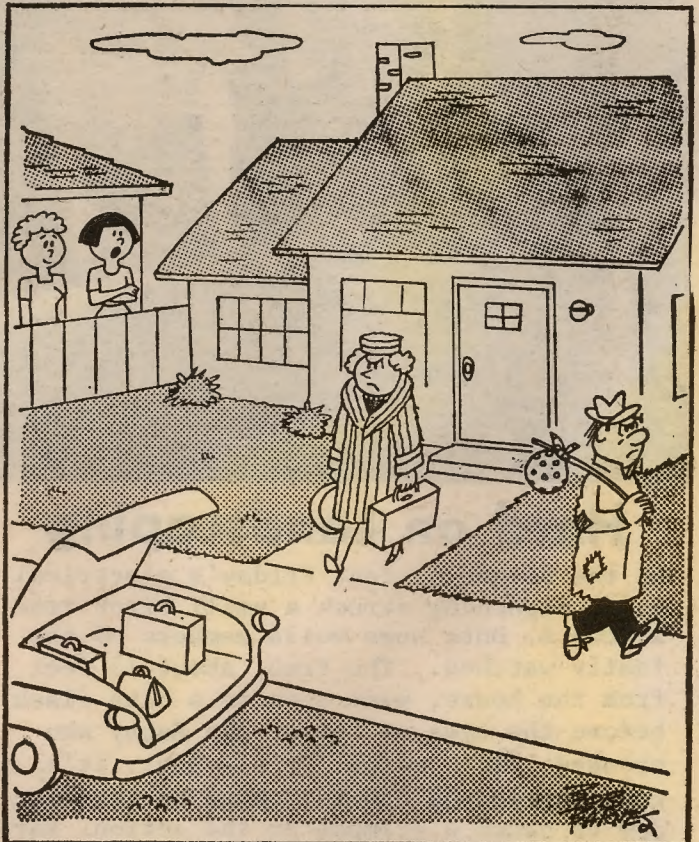

Mr. and Mrs. Keast and family are now back from their holidays at Sioux Lookout in Ontario.

Mrs. Annabelle Taylor and Mrs. Bessie Christianson are back from a very enjoyable trip to Wisconsin.

The G mkhana Club held their regular meeting recently. Gymkhanas were planned for both the 13th and the 19th.

The Agricultural Society held their regular meeting at which final details for the fair were wound up. A work party will go to the grounds on the 17th to prepare corrals and buildings for the big day on the 18th. It is hoped the weatherman co-operates for the day and that everyone come and see just what the district can produce in the way of livestock and other produce. Bingo games will be going to help pass away the time while the judges are busy with the exhibits. A parade will start the day and one of its features is the Alberta Centennial Float sponsored by the government of Alberta. A dance will be held in the evening at which the fair queen will be crowned.

SWIMMING SEASON SUCCESSFUL

The summer of 1967 has been most favorable for the swimming program at the Drayton Valley Swimming Pool. Not since 1963 has the annual attendance reached its present mark and never before has such a successful all around swimming program been presented at the local pool.

A number of factors have contributed to this success but the big one has been the beautiful sunny weather we have experienced here during July and August. The weather has been most conducive to the success of a swimming program this year while it was not so last year and the two preceding years and this has accounted for the difference.

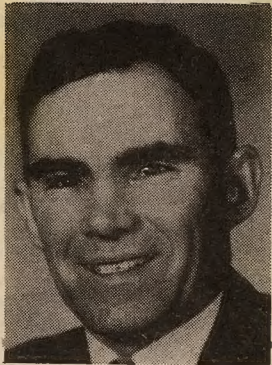

As of August 14th a total of 29,026 persons have attended the pool. The vast majority of this number have attended the pool during public or recreational swimming periods and approximately 70% of those in attendance have been under the age of fourteen years. Swimming instruction at all levels has also been very well attended. The school learn to swim program run during June was very successful with a total of 429 individuals taking part. These people came to the pool several times per week for instruction and periods of free or practice swimming.

A total of 428 persons have taken swimming instruction at the four different levels of the Red Cross Water Safety Program this summer, a figure well up from other years. Two classes have also been presented for those aspiring to Royal Life Saving Awards. Instruction has also been given in synchronized swimming throughout the season and the Neptune Competitive Swimming Club has been very active.

Financially, it would seem at this point that the pool operation is headed for one of its better years. To date receipts for the season total $6,524.96 which is well over the total receipts for the 1966 season.

The pool will remain open this year until September 22, to accommodate the school learn to swim program. Since the attendance at public swimming is expected to decline very sharply after September 1st, a revised schedule for this phase of the extended program will go into effect at that time.

The seasonal water show, the Centennial Swimaram will be presented next Sunday, August 20th at 1 p.m. Much time and effort has gone into the preparation of this event. A good number of persons from local companies, clubs, and organizations have been invited to take part and we should have quite a show going for us Sunday afternoon.

The annual District Swim Meet involving the competitive swim clubs from Drayton Valley, Devon, Hinton and Edson will be held here on Saturday, August 26, at 12:00 noon.

Considering all aspects of the program, we have had a good successful swimming season. In fact one of the best we have ever had in Drayton Valley.

Establish Pollution Control Committee

A 64-man Provincial Committee on Pollution Control has been set up under the direction of Alberta's Health Minister, Hon. Dr. J. Donovan Ross.

The purpose of the committee is to consider all aspects of the problems of air, water and soil pollution in Alberta. Eleven sub-committees have been created within the main body and each sub-committee is assigned a certain area of research or investigation.

Thirty-six of the members are drawn from outside the government; four are from the federal government and 24 are selected from various provincial government departments.

Among the members are researchers from the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary, representatives from the public at large, and from such professional groups as the Association of Professional Engineers, the Association of Architects and The Alberta Division of the Canadian Medical Association.

Among the specific areas to receive study by the committee are the nature, extent and effect of current pollution problems; the adequacy of current monitoring systems; current research programs and the need for new research; specific waste disposal or treatment problems; the social and economic aspects of pollution and the possible need for increased control or legislation.

The new committee represents an intensification of pollution control activities in the province. The Government of Alberta has maintained a committee on water pollution since 1950 and a committee on air pollution since 1957.

BURTONSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. A. Homme, Correspondent.

On Friday, August 4th, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Homme went to the city and visited her brother, Paul Walker and his wife for the afternoon. Their daughter, Norma and husband Zoltan Petriko picked them up there and took them to their new home in the Londonderry district, arriving just in time to avoid a drenching from the down pour of rain that struck Edmonton Friday evening plunging that area in total darkness for two hours or more. Candles were brought out and coffee was enjoyed by candle light.

On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Homme and daughter Debbie arrived from Clive, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wheadon and children from Whitecourt also spent the night at the Petriko home.

On Sunday afternoon both families visited relatives at Burtonsville bringing Mr. and Mrs. Axel Homme with them.

Melvin took his parents to St. Francis on Monday to visit their daughter, his sister and family, Bernice and Albert Osbak. We were all pleased to see Albert looking so well. But Bernice is under going medical treatment just now.

Wayne has been working during the holidays for John Alsins of Genesee. Eleanor is also there this week baby sitting and helping the elderly ladies while the younger couple is away on a holiday trip.

Melvin also took his Dad on a fishing trip and had good luck. Melvin's holidays ended too soon. He is wending his way homeward and will visit his brother, Lewis and family at Stony Plain for the day and then off for home where the work awaits him.

The barbecues and the good times which were enjoyed by all will not be forgotten.

Mrs. Katie Teague of Vancouver, B.C. and Mrs. Bellamay Teague of Keepphills visited Mr. and Mrs. Axel Homme on Sunday.

Mrs. Stanley MacDougall and son Ken spent the weekend with Agnes and Harris Shepherd at Edson.

Marylee Bailey of Burtonsville and Hugh Wilkie of Fallis were united in marriage on Saturday, August 5th. A long and happy married life is wished for them from all their friends in this area.

Olween and Bernice Town and Rod Block took the boys' hardball team to Alberta Beach Saturday to camp. They returned on Sunday.

The next Moon Lake Bingo will be held on August 24th.

Church of God To Show Film

The film, "The Uncommitted" will be shown at the Church of God, Sunday, August 20th at 8:00 p.m.

An invitation is extended to the people of the community to see this challenging film.

Refreshments will be served in the lower auditorium following the film.

Against the discipline and commitment of the communist, the 'freedom' fighter, rising nationalism, and other forces at work in our world, the film "The Uncommitted" presents the average Christian community as listless and uninspired. The communist says the party expects "Everything, what else?" The comfortable Christian in our Western World says, "The Church expects too much these days."

The film portrays the tumult of our present day, and challenges Christians to reassess their commitment to Jesus Christ. Only the disciplined and the committed find meaning and purpose in life.

The film should be followed by a discussion period.

WESTERN REVIEW ADVERTISING

There are many reasons why your business should be represented in the advertising columns of The Western Review. A steady, continuous advertising campaign keeps people interested in you and your business. Here's what your advertising will do for you:

1. BUILD A REPUTATION

Advertising can build a highly desirable reputation for your store far faster and more economically than can be done without advertising.

2. OVERCOME COMPETITION

Advertising can attract new customers because you let them know what you are selling, whether its goods or service.

3. ATTRACT NEW CUSTOMERS

Advertising can build a highly desirable reputation for the severe competition typical of present-day business by holding present customers and attracting new ones.

4. STEP UP TRAFFIC & VOLUME

Advertising is sufficiently flexible to permit you to step up traffic and volume whenever you want to, or need clear inventories, lend to expansion or create new markets.

5. ENLARGE YOUR PROFIT MARGIN

Advertising can enlarge your margin of profit by increasing volume, and as you know, the effective way to meet the challenge of greater expanse of doing business is to build volume as swiftly as possible. Consistent, intelligent newspaper advertising will do just that for a very modest investment.

Last week I talked about blanching. This time a few suggestions for successful freezing may be in order.

The selection of suitable varieties for freezing is important. Some fruits and vegetables freeze better than other and some varieties freeze better than others.

Select containers and wrappers that are moisture and vapour proof. Thin plastic bags, for example, will allow moisture and air to pass through and result in an inferior product.

Labelling packages with the contents and the date frozen is helpful. This makes it much easier to locate what you want in a loaded freezer.

To prevent darkening of fruits such as peaches and pears, add ascorbic acid.

Pick fruits or vegetables when they're at their prime and handle them quickly--picking and freezing the same day is desirable.

Time the blanching period accurately and start counting as soon as the water returns to a boil. Work with small quantities--about 1 pound in a gallon of rapidly boiling water. Drain well. Place in container or bags and eliminate as much air as possible.

It's well worth the effort required to obtain a superior frozen product.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of the late Mr. Matlock in its bereavement.

The annual picnic of the Greaves family was held at the Moon Lake sports grounds on August 7. Fifty-eight members of the family attended and there were six guests. Family members attending from here included the Leslie Tuckers, the Ted Tuckers, the Dan Bills and the Nick Urchys.

Rotary Plow Working at District Points

A rotary plow made short work of breaking about 50 acres on the H.T. Deby farm on the south boundary of the town of Drayton Valley last week.

The plow, operated by Tom Culbert and his sons, moved into the area recently from Saskatchewan and did some work in the Violet Grove area before moving to the Deby farm. It is now working in the Buck Creek region.

Mr. Culbert and his family of Meadowlake, Saskatchewan move the cat and plow by truck from job to job and live in a trailer while on the move.

The plow can operate through brush, small trees and stumps grinding everything up and leaving the land ready to be worked. Mr. Deby stated he would harrow the land following the plow and then seed.

NON-TROPHY SHEEP HUNTING LICENCE APPLICATIONS

OPEN SEASON-September 1st to October 31st*

This year, a random selection of a limited number of non-trophy sheep licences will be made from all properly completed applications received from Alberta residents. "Resident" means a person who is a Canadian citizen and who has resided in the Province for a period of three months immediately prior to the date of application for a licence, or who is not a Canadian citizen but has resided in the Province one year immediately prior to the date of application for a licence.

Before applying for a licence it is necessary to have a 1967 Wildlife Certificate. A group of hunters, up to a maximum of four, who wish to hunt in the same vicinity may submit their applications in one envelope. Each applicant is only allowed one application. As there are several areas open to non-trophy sheep hunting, please indicate on the front of the envelope your first, second and third choice.

Each applicant who is not drawn on his "first choice" area has an equal opportunity to be selected in his "second choice", etc. All applications must be submitted on a special form available only at Provincial Fish and Wildlife Offices. As illegible or incomplete applications do not qualify, it is important to carefully read the instructions.

A money order or certified cheque payable to the Provincial Treasurer must be enclosed with each application.

$5.00 FOR NON-TROPHY SHEEP LICENCE

Complete applications should be forwarded to:

FISH AND WILDLIFE DIVISION,
DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS,
EDMONTON, ALBERTA.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE POSTMARKED
NOT LATER THAN AUGUST 19th, 1967

Top Horses for Annual Show at Evansburg

The cutting horse contest at Evansburg on August 19th will feature Canada's top quarter horses. Some of these horses have performed here in Alberta and other provinces, the U.S.A. and one showing in the United Kingdom.

The idea for this contest arose from the range where cowboys were "cutting" cattle from the herd for branding or sickness. It was started as a Sunday sport and has carried on into the contests of today. The rider picks the animal he wants cut from the herd, after that the work is left up to the horse. The horse is to hold the animal from the herd without help or coaching. During the 2½ minute ride the rider may pick out any number of cattle.

The jumping competitions are all on a well planned course with approximately 10 obstacles. The obstacles will consist of three basic jumps, the spread, the wall and the fence. Horses that knock a jump down shall be penalized with four faults, a horse refusing a jump shall be penalized three faults. Any horse having three refusals shall be excused from the ring.

In case of a tie between horses the course will be slightly changed. On the 3rd round if there is still a tie between horses a timed jump off may occur.

This horse show is on August 19 at the PV Rodeo Grounds and sponsored by the Evansburg Kinsmen.

Following the horse show later on in the evening a dance will be held in the Legion Hall.

OVERHEARD--Returned Vacationer, "We're broke. While we were getting away from it all, it was getting away from us.

Then there was the man who died from drinking varmish. It was an awful sight but a beautiful finish.

New Jet Transport For R.C.A.F.

The government has authorized the Department of Defence Production to conduct negotiations with the United States government with a view to purchasing four Lockheed C-141 Starlifter aircraft, each powered by four Pratt and Whitney fan jet engines.

Negotiations are being centred on the model now in use with the United States Air Force but with the addition of an in-flight refuelling capability.

If satisfactory contractual arrangements can be made, the first aircraft would become available in late 1969.

The 318,000 pound jets would be used to augment the existing Hercules and Yukon long-range strategic airlift capability of Air Transport Command and for refuelling the CF-5 tactical fighters.

One C-141 is capable of escorting four CF-5 aircraft for in-flight refuelling up to a range of 2,900 statute miles while carrying up to 45,000 pounds, including troops, supporting ground crew and material.

The C-141 can take off in 4,800 feet and land in 3,700 feet, the shortest take off and landing distance for any jet transport of this size.

Also, it is in the first jet airlifter from which paratroopers have jumped.

As a multi-mission aircraft, the C-141 can carry more than 70,000 pounds of cargo; or 154 soldiers, or 80 litter patients with eight assistants. It has a normal cruising speed of 550 mph.

The C-141 is the only aircraft of its size with an aft-ramp roll-on, roll-off cargo loading capability which is essential for the Canadian Forces requirement for strategic airlift.
